

June 19th

Juneteenth
Freedom Day

At Fineline HR Consulting, we recognize and celebrate the history and significance of Juneteenth. On the anniversary of this auspicious day, we reflect on the importance of employment laws that prohibit discrimination of all kinds, including color and race. We strongly believe in the power of laws to bring change – and applaud the change these antidiscrimination laws have brought over the years. But as much progress as has been made, we know that more work must be done to achieve the promise of equality for all.

That is why we believe so strongly in educating and training employers (and their employees) on new and evolving laws, and helping them adopt and implement policies and practices that follow those laws and emphasize fair treatment of all employees regardless of their color, race, or other protected statuses. We value and honor our clients, who embrace and encourage these efforts to treat people as required by law – actually, even better than the laws require.

Together, we strive to continue to bring positive change.
